Hetherington Acquitted.

[By telegraph to the Dispatch.]

Washington, D. C. April 2.—The news was received at the Navy Department this morning that Lieutenant J. H. Hetherington, United States navy, has been acquitted of the charge of killing (lower Robinson, an Englishman, at Yokokoma, about two months ago. A cablegram from Commander John R. Bartlett, commanding the Marion, gave briefly the information that Hetherington had been acquitted by the Consular Court at Yokohoma better which he was tried. This action settles the case finally, as there is no other tribunal than the Consular Court that has jurisdiction in such a matter. Hetherington, it will be remembered, is the lieutenant in the navy who shot and killed Robinson, a prominent member of the English colony, on the ground that the latter had conducted himself improperly wath respect to Mrs. Hetherington, who was hving at Yokohoma, her husband being attached to the Asiatic squadron. It is said that Robinson made what amounted practically to a confession to Rear-Admiral Belknap, and that Hetherington's act was approved by the foreign residents who were familiar with the circumstances.

RALEIGH, N. C., April 9.-The State Republican Convention to nominate delegates to the Minneapolis convention meets here next Thursday. Prominent members of that party tell me to-day that they expect a big row. The fight is for the party patronage and for control of the State, and Eaves and Mott-both of whom desire to be leaders—will be here with all the support they can muster. The wrangle will begin early.

The Third-party people are making the most earnest efforts to get negro votes, and thinking that they can have more control over the blacks if the latter are members of the Alliance, are striving to induce them to join the order. No one knows how many negro Alliance men there are.

ALIVELY WRANGLE.

A LIVELY WRANGLE.

There is a lively wrangle among the Republicans in the Sixth District. There came near being a fight at their convention Thursday at Roesingham. The leaders of the party decide that the negro Gordon, who led the bolters, is outside the party, and that only seven of the regular delegates went with him. They say further that James Young (colored), of Wilmington, and Archibald Brady, the postmaster at Charlotte, had the convention and are the proper dalegates to the national convention. Of course these are Harrison men.

The first three months of the year were cold and wet and spring commenced very late, which has delayed farming operations somewhat. The late spring menced very late, which has defaved farming operations somewhat. The late spring has been favorable to the fruit crop. The average dates of planting and barvesting crops are as follows: Preparation of soil is generally completed by the end of March; cotton planted April 1st to 30th—picked Sentemoer to January; tobackotransplanted April 1st to May 30th—cut August to October; corn planted shout April 1st—harvested in September; when and rye planted October to December—harvested June 1st; oats planted October 10th—harvested June 1sth. There is a great decrease in the cotton acreage and a redecrease in the cotton acreage and a re-markable increase in the acreage of corn. There is also a greater diversification of crops than ever before.

RECOMMEND AN ELECTRIC PLANT. Two Council Committees Hear Argument and Report Favorably.

and Report Favorably.

A joint session of the Council Committees on Electric Light and Finance was held in the Council chamber yesterday. Present were Messrs. W. Deane Courtney (chairman), J. W. Hargrove, L. T. Christian, W. L. Carneal, Rolfe E. Giover, George E. Bowden, and A. B. Guigon.

The question under consideration was the resolution from the Common Council appropriating $125,000 in city 4 per cent. bonds for the construction of an electric-light plant. Much argument was indulged in, Mr. Guigon taking the positive stand that in the city's present financial condition he was opposed to the resolution. He said he would be in favor of the city owning its plant if it were able, but at this time such was far from the case. He offered a motion to recommend to the Board of Aldermen to lay the whole matter on the table until after the election of the new Council. This was lost, only Messrs. Guigon, Hargrove, and Carneal voting for P. The resolution then came up for its adoption.

In a long argument in opposition to the resolution, Mr. Guigon said he did not think it right, proper, or decent for this body to adopt it in the face of financial affairs, and just upon the eve of the installation of a new Council. After considerable argument the resolution was recommended to the Board of Aldermen for adoption by the following vote:

Chicaco, I.L., April 9.—A bolder plunge was probably never witnessed in the Chicago wheat trade than that made by Edward Pardiidge to day. Let pich, with believed to be about ready to throw up his hands in despair.

To-night all was changed. Pardridge was again a conqueror. A regiment of brokers at his orders had dashed into the pit at the very outset of the day and fought his enemies to a standstill. Before the day ended he pulled down the price over 3 cents a bushel from the highest point reached. The close was within second the lowest price of the day.

Pardridge in person was on the floor bright and early. The galleries and pits were crowded to suffication in expectation of seeing a cyclone, when, losing his nerve, he should attempt to buy instead of sell.

The noted plunger was earnestly rushing from one friend to another, and making remarks jerky and emphatic, but that was all the emotion he displayed. He wore a dark, natty freek coat and that was all the emotion he displayed. He wore a dark, natty frock coat and light spring trousers and a small black derby hat, jauntily perched on the back of his head, gave him a crisp business air. His keen gray eyes were now fully alive to what was going on. Now and then his friends would eagerly swarm around him to ask how things were going, but Pardridge was too busy rushing from pit to pit to talk with them long, and would vouch-safe only a few hurried words and then tear himself away. He denied that he had lost or would lose a nickel, and declared: "When I lose I lose for keeps, but I am not worrying about loss just now." lam not worrying about loss just now."
When approached at another opportunity he emphatically asserted that nothing would drive him to cover unless the market went to a dollar a bushel.

The views of Mr. Hargrove, chairman of the Committee on Finance, were asked, and he said that it was a very inexpedient time for the appropriation of such an amount of bonds. He stated that it would be necessary to appropriate about $600,000 in bonds during the present vest for the completion of the new City Hail, erection of culverts, etc.

Mr. Glover asked if the electric-light plant was not more necessary than a water-gas plant, the construction of culverts, etc.

Mr. Glover asked if the electric-light plant was not more necessary than a water-gas plant.

The chairman of the Finance Committee replied that a water-gas plant was needed ten times as badly as an electric-light plant.

WOULD GIVE TONE TO OUR PAPER.

Mr. Christian said he thought it a wise policy to pass the resolution; that the city would put out its bonds any way, and if it had its electric-light plant it would certainly give more tone to the city and her paper.

In a long argument in opposition to the resolution, Mr. Guigen said he did not think it right, proper, or decent for this body to adopt it in the face of financial affairs, and just upon the eve of the installation of a new Council. After considerable argument the resolution was recommended to the Board of Aldermen for adoption by the following vote:

In a long argument in opposition to the resolution of a new Council. After considerable argument the resolution was at 69, a heavy decrease from the outlook in December last. St. Louis, however, reported that up to 11 o'clock nothing had been heard of the report there except in dispatches from Chicago. Wholly aside from Pardridge this and other news of like character kept the market nervous and excited. A story was started that Werst, who has travelled extensively over the winter-wheat country, estimated the average condition at 71. Werst himself denied this, but ineffectually.

PARDRIDGE SELLS INCESSANTLY. Pardridge meanwhile, far from showing any evidence of weakening, was bustling let me know if the parties have been indicted, and, if not, why? Were the perties arrested by warrant; if not, why? If there is any defect in the law, please let me know what it is so that it may be remedied."

INPLY OF THE JUDGE.

Yesterday the Governar received a reply to this letter from Judge Portlock, in which the writer, after scatting that he does not concede the right of the Executive to demand of the judiciary reports of their official duties, and setting forth what the juries had done in the case, and what the writer conceived to be his duties, concludes as follows:

The services at St. Mark's church will be very interesting, and attractive music approximate will be as follows:

The scholars will be marched into the church to the strains of the processional "We Are the Soldiers of the processional" "We Are the Soldiers of the processional "We Are the Soldiers of the processional "We Are the Soldiers of the processional" "By Angle-American cable to the Dispatch.]

By Angle-American cable to the Dispa on Pardridge's selling, then rose to 850., held for a considerable time at 84%c., and then, near noon, shot up to 85%c. But the demand fell off and the price went up to 84%c., and at 12 o'clock was about 84%c. against 84%c. at the close yesterday. THE MARKET WEAKENS.

After the noon hour the wheat market began to weaken. The shorts seemed to be well covered, and the moment the buying came to a halt the bears took fresh courage and began to sell. There seemed to be so one with courage enough to extend any support, and Pardridge continued his singging tactics, so that when the break started the longs began to unload and the pyramids tumbled.

May went off quickly to $3½,c., reacted some, and at 1 o'clock was $3½,c. Then some operators became very bold, declaring that the department estimate on the wheat condition will be33 to $5 or better. This was followed by such selling as caused many to believe that some houses better. This was followed by such selling as caused many to believe that some houses had inside information from Washington. At any rate the department puzzle was too uncertain to hold wheat against, and general selling put the May price off to 825 sc. bid at the clese, or 12 sc. under the close last night on the regular session, which was 2c. under the later curb prices. It was reported that George Haines, who traded in a small way, had failed.

der's Case—The Crime.

Washington, April 9.—The trial of Howard J. Schneider for the murder of his wife ended to day with a verdict of murder in the first decree.

On Sunday evening, January 3ist, Schneider, who had not been living with his wife for several weeks, met her as she was on her way to church, accompanied by her brother and sister, and almost immediately began firing. The brother, Frank Hamlink, was instantly killed, and the wife received three bullets in her body, from the effects of which she died in a few days. As soon as the verdict was known outside the court the large crowd congregated around the building gave vent to its feelings of approval by repoated theory. The Judge, in dismissing the jury, thanked them for their righteous and just verdict, and said it would be an honor to them as long as they lived. Mr. Jere Wilson, the counsel for the accused, gave notice that he would ask for a new trial.
